Dog-gone Fun at Jesuit High School

The artist, Magna Skarbonkiewicz, is a student at Jesuit High who entered this drawing of Freely, Trino, and a GDB pup in a contest for the cover of the school planner for next year.

“I decided to use the dogs because dogs can read our emotions better than we can ourselves sometimes. They are a part of Jesuit High School that is super enjoyable and helpful. Whenever someone has a dog and brings one to the classroom, they brighten up the whole room.” - Magna

Plus, in addition to being a talented artist, Magna is a World Champion fencer!

Dear Mr. Klausenburger,

My name is Trino the dog, and I would like to apply for AP US History next year. I am immensely intrigued by the course materials and would like to further my study in history. Unlike some of my classmates that are scared to take APUSH (loooooooserrrrrrs), I'm confident in my ability to do well in the class. If I were in your boat, which I'm not, I'd accept this wonderful application.

Have a great day after school! Make sure whatever you do, it's moral, legal and ethical!

Sincerely,
Trino the dog
